QUESTIONS YOU MAY HAVE

Are there Age and Weight Limits?

Segway riding is an adventure activity, not to be confused with mobility transport. Our tours are recommend for adults up to the age of 55. Those above this age may still participate, however should consider their personal fitness and whether or not they are comfortable engaging in adventure activities. Uluru Segway Tours strongly discourages participants above the age of 65 years from engaging in their tours.

For children the minimum age is 12 years old; children aged between 12-18 years must be accompanied by an adult.

The weight recommendation for our Segways is 45-117kg (99-257lbs), unfortunately people outside of these weights are unable to participate in our tours.

What should I wear and bring?

It's great to travel light on a Segway. Wear comfortable clothing, closed in shoes and sunglasses. Make sure you bring your Uluru-Kata Tjuta National Park entry ticket, camera, 1L of water and a warm jacket and gloves in the cooler months. In addition to this Uluru-Kata Tjuta National Park advises that all visitors bring snacks when walking in the park.

Can I ride a Segway?

Segways are fun and easy to ride, however this is an adventure activity and poses a fall risk. Pregnant women, those with serious health conditions or back injuries should not join our tours. To ride a Segway you need the balance, vision and co-ordination to comfortably ride a bike.

How big is the tour group?

Our tours are small group, with 10 participants per guide.
